

HIGHLAND ADDS DAVID ROWE TO SEATTLE CONSULTING TEAM

ISSAQUAH, WA - June 1 - Highland Capital Advisors formally announced the addition of David Rowe to its professional team. Based in the Seattle area, Dave will serve as a senior consultant to institutional and individual investors throughout the Western United States.

"We're delighted to welcome Dave to the Highland team as we continue to implement additional resources to deliver value to our clients. Dave's professionalism, integrity and personality reflect Highland's culture and core beliefs," said Bill Small, Highland co-founder and managing principal.

"Highland is the logical next step in my consulting career," said Dave. "Highland's professionals recognize the moral significance of our work. Serving clients in the most effective, efficient and ethical manner possible is both motivating and a good fit."

Since 1988, Dave has witnessed the inner-workings of the financial services industry. "Highland helps clients navigate financial, regulatory and industry complexities so they can make well-informed decisions, reduce risk and live comfortably," he said. At Highland, Dave is able to serve both institutional and individual investors, free of influence or conflicts of interest.

As an active member of various professional associations, Dave is a leader in the benefits and investment communities of the Pacific region, supporting deep and long-standing relationships with corporate and not-for-profit employers - as well as the professionals that support them - including attorneys, administrators, actuaries and auditors.

A Washington native, Dave received his mathematics degree from the University of Washington. During his career, Dave earned a number of certifications from the American Society of Pension Professionals and Actuaries (ASPPA) and has also held various securities registrations and insurance licenses.

Dave resides in Woodinville with his wife Kim, his daughter Jessica and his son Dillon. Dave can be reached at drowe@hcportfolios.com.
